FRIDAY, NOV. 3, 1871.

SNOO-FLY.—A correspondent of the Hingham Journal, speaking of the importance of adopting the plan of a two years term in selecting candidates for Senator, says of the recent Republican Senatorial Convention at Westport, "The Westport delegation of nineteen, haughty and arrogant in their supremacy of numbers, stimulated by that noted wire-puller from Braintree, would have been but their own narrow and selfish scheme, namely, to run a candidate of their own, without regard to common decency and fairness. The delegation from Marshfield was minus one, and Rev. Mr. Stevens, of South Scituate, was inaugurated to fill the vacancy. Marshfield was a unit for Mr. Whiting, but this newly made delegate, evidently "born to bluish unbelief," and contrary to all known and honorable usage, gave his vote with the Westport delegation, for James Humphrey, Esq. Lord Timothy Dexter says, "some men resemble very much one animal and some another, but they don't know what the devil to make of." Lord Timothy was no fool, though in some respects he appeared very much like one. He had a large head, a small body, and a long neck. Mr. Whiting would have been elected. Let those who aided this conspiracy beware. The one term principle they have adopted will carry the election of the next candidate to the town of Cohasset. Then Weymouth, like Hingham, will be "left out in the cold," there to nurse their wrath to keep it warm.

The "arrogant delegation from Weymouth" can but laugh in their sleeves at this accusation of schism, as the Hingham correspondent, as they are full aware that our town of Weymouth, the largest and most influential town in the District had been colored in Communion, sufficient length of time for them to demand their right of selection of a candidate from their own borders. And they are also impressed with the belief that the choice of Mr. Humphrey was one which would credit to the District, as he is, unquestionably, one of the most able public men in the District.

CAUCUS.—The Weymouth Democratic caucus Tuesday evening was well represented from each section of the town. The convention was called to order by Noble Morse, and Hon. Abner Holbrook received President of the convention, and A. J. Randall, Esq., in the chair, adopting the usual custom of a marking list, and Hon. Abner Holbrook received the largest number of marks, and his nomination was made unanimous. This was a motion was made to choose a committee of one to confer with the Labor Reform caucus, with a proposition for the two parties to unite and nominate one from each party. L. H. Loud was chosen that committee. Mr. Loud went into the Labor Reform meeting, and on making his business known a motion was made by a member of that convention, to give Mr. Loud an opportunity to state his proposition, but the President, Mr. Holbrook, had anything to do with the Democratic party, no bargains being his motto. The convention generally was disposed to hear Mr. Loud's proposition, and a vote was finally passed, giving him an opportunity to lay before that convention what the Democratic convention was willing to do. Mr. Loud then arose and in a soul stirring, enthusiastic speech, stated the object which he had come into the meeting, which, if possible, to unite the two parties together, and a nomination for Representatives be made of one from each party, as by so doing they would be sure of electing them both. This was strongly objected by the President, who seemed determined to choke down any and all propositions that might be made by the Democratic party. Mr. Loud reported back the result of his mission, which was quite different from what was expected, knowing that a large portion of the Labor Reform caucus was in favor of accepting the proposition which had been offered them. The report of the committee was accepted, and the only course for the Democratic convention to pursue was to nominate a straight ticket. Another marking list was ordered for another candidate, and Noble Morse received the largest number of marks, and his nomination was made unanimous. The convention then adjourned, feeling confident of good success on Tuesday next.

REPAIRING.—The railroad bridge over the river at Weymouth Landing is being rebuilt, and the Company have placed the draw with a small plank structure. The draw has been opened but once since the railroad was built, and the vessel having loaded with lumber at the same mill wharf, during the California excitement, bound for San Francisco. The creek being navigable for vessels of light draft, the Corporation have, we presume, like Jackson, "taken the responsibility," as should occasion ever arise, they would legally be required to open a way.

ANNUAL MEETING.—The Annual Meeting of the Weymouth Land and Farming Evangelical Baptist School Association was held last Monday evening, in the vestry of the Baptist Church, Weymouth Landing. The meeting was called to order by the President, Wm. D. Farnen, and after prayer by Rev. E. P. McElroy, of East Weymouth, a committee of three was appointed, by the Church, to prepare a report for the year ensuing, and their report was accepted, as follows:

FALL & WINTER.

E. ROSENFELD,

S. WEYMOUTH,

WOULD SAY TO THOSE DESIROUS OF INSPECTING

AN UNUSUALLY LARGE AND WELL SELECTED

STOCK OF

[illegible]

FRIDAY, NOV. 24, 1871.

A COSTLY RIFLE.—A most elegant specimen of the Winchester Repeating Fire-Arms, "17 shoters," has recently been forwarded to Valparaiso, by the firm of John P. Lovell & Co., of New York. It is an officer in the service of the government. The stock of the rifle is manufactured from the finest black walnut, and the mounting is of gold gilt, richly engraved. The cost of the rifle is $125. The same firm shipped a large lot of goods in their line at the same time, to the order of a house at that port.

ROUGH ON QUINCY.—The Dedham Transcript says that at the recent Democratic County Convention a delegate from Quincy objected to the holding of any more political gatherings in Dedham, as nothing stronger than ale could be procured to drink in Dedham, and it was then voted that the next County Convention should be called in Quincy. Are we to infer from this that Quincy is the champion town for drinksters?

G. A. R.—The next regular meeting of Post 58, G. A. R., will be held Tuesday evening, Nov. 28. Business of the utmost importance is to come before the Post.

MARSHFIELD.—We learn that at the annual meeting of the Marshfield Agricultural and Horticultural Society, last Monday evening, the subject of providing horse troughs as a part of the entertainment at the annual fair, was produced. The subject was discussed, and a disposition was manifested by some of the members to elect the officers who were opposed to the trotting, and fill their places with those in favor of the trotting. George M. Baker, Esq. was reelected President.

WATER FROM ACCORD POND.—The Hingham Journal says that the article published in the Gazette last week in relation to a supply of water from Accord Pond, was erroneous in its statements, as they are not aware that "the height of the pond above tide water has ever been ascertained, and the pond is not on the confines of Weymouth." We were in error as to the pond being situated upon the immediate border of Weymouth, in relation to the height of the pond above tide water. We derived our information from a statement made by a former resident of Hingham, who at one time entertained the idea now advanced of a supply of water for the town from that source, and whose estimate made the height about 100 feet. We learn from Quincy Bicknell, Esq., of Hingham, who corrects our error, that the pond is probably situated at a greater elevation than 125 feet, and that serious difficulties may possibly be encountered in conveying the water to the lower part of the town, in the superabundance of ledge, which would require blasting for the "waterway."

THE LITTLE AUK.—mentioned in Kane's Arctic Expedition, has made its appearance in Weymouth, one of the birds being taken on the premises of Mr. C. S. Williams, last week. They have not been seen in this vicinity for several years. The birds have the wings, black and white heads, and the balance of their plumage is white. They are web footed, with three toes, but a sharp bill like a robin, and are of the size of a small pigeon.

THANKSGIVING ENTERTAINMENT.—The Governor's proclamation reminds us that the annual New England feast-day is near, and as it is incumbent on all to bear in mind that in the midst of plenty some are deprived of the comforts of life by reason of destitution, and that the poor have with you, we have the opportunity to make one more appeal for the entertainment in the cause of charity announced for Thanksgiving evening, Nov. 28, P. M., at the residence of Mr. C. S. Williams, a program is published in the advertising columns. No worthy object of benevolence can be found than the aid which may be afforded by a generous patronage of the entertainment to the widows and orphans whose homes were desolated by the terrible rebellion, and to the disabled soldiers who appeal to their comrades for succor.

CHARITY FAIR.—The fair held at Washington Hall, Weymouth Landing, on Monday and Tuesday evenings, under the charge of the Principal of the Monaquot Young Ladies' School, was a complete success, the pecuniary result being $160 clear of all expenses, which will be applied to educational purposes in the West, as, according to the proclamation of the Governor of Wisconsin, the physical wants of people in the burned districts are at present supplied. But the destruction of school-houses and other educational appliances demands additional contributions from the charitable, and it is very appropriate that the money raised by the efforts of the members of a school should be devoted to this object. All the articles offered for sale at the Fair were sold by friends and pupils of the Monaquot School, and the balance remaining undistributed will be forwarded to the Boston Home for the Little Wanderers.

FAIR WAS LARGE EACH NIGHT.—The entertainment was quite pleasing, the dialogues, tableaux, etc., being well presented by pupils of the school.

FAIR HOG.—Mr. Josiah B. Spear, of South Weymouth, has raised a porker this year, which was slaughtered last night by J. Martin, and weighed, when dressed, 773 lbs. The hog was one year and four months old.

PROOF POSITIVE.—The large amounts paid by prominent business firms for advertising excite much wonder in the minds of those who think it does not pay to advertise; but that the enterprise of these reckless patrons of the press meets with corresponding return of trade, is manifest from their own statements. One of our most liberal advertisers informed us a day or two since, in reply to a query as to the results of advertising, that by a free use of the columns of the newspapers, he increased his business $24,000 in one year, the cost of the advertising being but 145 per cent. on the amount. We think that may well be called "proof positive" of the benefits of advertising.

All kinds of Goods, the Furnishing Goods, at Williams' Weymouth Landing.

MEDICAL.—Dr. W. F. Hathaway, formerly of Boston, has, at the solicitation of residents of Weymouth, who are in favor of homeopathic practice, located at Weymouth Landing, for the practice of medicine and surgery. Dr. H. is a graduate of Hahnemann's School, and is a member of the Philadelphia, and brings numerous testimonials to his efficiency as a physician, from the most noted homeopathic practitioners of Boston and other places.

Ladies Underclothing. in variety, at Williams' Weymouth Landing.

THE SOCIETY for the Prevention of Cruelty to Dumb Animals have an announcement of a fair in our columns, which our readers should not fail to notice, and respond by efforts to aid in its success. As a work of humanity the objects of this Society demand the cooperation of all who endorse the Scripture saying, that "who merciful man is merciful to his beast."

Protect your boys from the winter blasts by providing a good outfit of Clothing, which can be found in all grades, at Williams' Weymouth Landing.

THE STORM.—ESCAPE FROM SHIPWRECK.—Capt. John Phillips, of Weymouth, landed, had a rather hazardous experience, last week, in coming round Cape Cod, on his passage to Boston, during a recent gale. The vessel came over the shoals in safety, with a Southwest wind, and arrived off Pollock Rip lightship just before dark, when the wind suddenly veered to North, and blew so heavily, it being deemed too hazardous to recross the shoals and gain a harbor in the Vineyard, a course was made for Boston Light, and about 2 o'clock in the morning the flash of a revolving light was seen on the weather-bow, which the Captain at first pronounced to be Boston Light. At the next revolution he discovered his error, the light proving to be the Minot, the vessel, which had been heading about North West through the night, having fallen to leeward in the tremendous sea which was raised by the gale, and the influence of a southerly current. When the light was sighted the vessel was somewhat wide out, though so near as to create apprehensions that she might end her career on Cohasset rocks; but she was immediately hauled to windward, and though the sea rolled so heavily as to break aboard, filling the decks at every surge, the vessel stood up manfully and made the light Boston Light and a harbor in safety.

The storm last week gave us an unusual high tide, which penetrated to cellars on Nantuxet beach, and floated a considerable drift stuff from the wharves. The effects of the storm are plainly visible in many places along the shore. On Nantuxet beach, between the wharves, beach and Rockland Cafe, the sea washed away huge portions of the sand bank above high-water mark, distributing the sand over the beach, putting it in a very bad condition. The height of the water on the day of the storm is plainly marked by the drift stuff on the wall of the sand bank, from three to five feet high in many places, and through by the surf. At the Rockland Cafe the sea reached nearly to its foundation, and on Nantuxet beach, the sea broke over the beach between Jerusalem Road and Green Hill, into Straits Pond, destroying the road over the beach.

Jupiter will be on the prime vertical, as seen from Boston, at 1h. 03m. evening.
The North Star (Polaris) will be on the meridian at 8h. 41m. evening.

TEMPERATURE.—A large number of the members of Union Lodge of Good Templars, of Weymouth, were present at the exercises of the latter Lodge, Saturday evening last, at East Marshfield on Sunday, at the regular forenoon service; at North Scituate in the afternoon, and at South Scituate in the Union Church, on Sunday. The exercises were held in the Town Hall, and were attended by a large gathering. Social Lodge of East Abington, Old Oak Bucket of North Scituate, and Puritan Lodge of Randolph, were also present. The exercises were provided by Steadfast Lodge for all present.

TRAVEL.—The travel to and from Duxbury and way stations on the road is larger than the most sanguine projectors of the road anticipated, and already some of its patrons are agitating the idea of a train running express after reaching Cohasset, a large building, and then to Boston in one and one-half hours. Such a train would relieve the South Shore trains from Cohasset to Boston of the surplus of passengers, and the frequent compels many to take stand positions in their transit to the city.

MORE ROOM.—Mr. J. B. Hollis, who runs the hotel at the village, says that his accommodations are becoming strained by increasing business, and the probabilities are that he will be obliged to enlarge his hotel. Mr. Hollis is a native of Weymouth, and as a landlord has become very popular among travelers.

"BOLT."—Mr. Editor:—Under the above head, some one in your last issue evidently tried to smother a guilty conscience, or find an excuse for a mean act. "Bolt," viz., to spring out suddenly." Now there is not a marked difference between a deliberately leaving a body before a train into executive session, and staying with that body, taking an active part in its deliberations, whether a final decision is made against you, or not. A train would not be a man's credit to hold an opinion all his life, it is equally as much to his dishonor to hold a false one. Every thing goes against him, and the likelihood has a plenty, even in this enlightened age, who think
To smother words, though in Hell;
Better to reign in Hell than rule in Heaven." X

ARINGTON.—The Temple Quartette, with Howard M. Dow, pianist, and H. M. Smith, soprano, gave a grand concert in the Lyceum Court under direction of H. Pierce, last Tuesday evening. Fred. Douglass will lecture on "San Domingo" Nov. 28, in the same court.

SURPRISE.—We learn from the Standard that the Rev. A. S. Smith, of South Scituate, was visited by a party of surprised last week, who made him presents of groceries, provisions, and $50 in money.

A new Methodist Society has been formed at Centre Abington. They held a social gathering last week in their hall at the depot, which was well attended. Rev. Mr. Morley presided.

A Young Men's Catholic Lyceum is to be organized in Abington, under the direction of Rev. Mr. Moran.
